Burpee's FORDHOOK FARMS

Fordhook is the best known seed farm in the world. It was founded before the United States Government had any experiment stations. Here all varieties of vegetables and flowers are tested. Some of our favorite vegetables carry the name Fordhook. Our friends and fellow gardeners are always welcome at Fordhook and Floradale.

Burpee's FLORADALE FARMS

Floradale is the original seed farm of the Lompoc Valley of California. For years Floradale has been famous for the fine quality of flower seeds it produces. But since before Pearl Harbor it has also been producing the finest quality of many kinds of vegetable seeds that formerly came from Europe.

Burpee's vegetables are grown where soil and climate combine to produce highest quality seeds. Tests are made here, as well as at Fordhook, for purity and adaptability.

A New Vegetable -

Burpee's TAMPALA

BETTER THAN SPINACH

David Burpee picking branches of Tampala at Fordhook Farms

Tampala has an unusually long period of usefulness; it will not bolt or go to seed during hot weather. One sowing usually produces enough "greens" for the season. However, for a continuous supply of the most tender leaves, several successive sowings may be made 10 days or 2 weeks apart. Entire plants when they become 5 or 6 in. high make the most delicious greens, raw or cooked.

Tampala is easy to grow. Sow seed outdoors the same time you plant beans, or any time after the ground becomes warm. Tampala is ready to eat in from six to eight weeks after sowing the seed. Where plants are grown singly, 2 ft. apart, they make a large, round plant 1½ ft. and more across and 2 ft. high; use the 4 or 5 inch tips of each branch and repeated cuttings may be made as new leaves and stems grow.

1375 Burpee's Tampala (Tăm-păl'-a) is a delicious green vegetable, the leaves of which are cooked, prepared and served like spinach but is better than spinach in many important respects.

Tampala is so different in flavor to other vegetables used as "greens" that it is difficult to compare it to any of them. It retains its tenderness for a longer time, has a consistency and flavor all its own, less irony and less puckery than spinach, more flavor, more body, and more food value than either spinach or chard—a pleasing change from all other "greens." It does well in hot weather and will keep on producing all summer.

Tampala leaves are so tender that they require only five minutes to cook, with only the water that clings to the leaves when washed. Branches 4 to 5 in. in length may be quickly gathered instead of picking individual leaves. These young stem tips and leaves may be cooked together; the larger stems, up to the size of one's little finger, may be separated from the leaves and cooked separately for 8 or 10 minutes as you would cook asparagus. The stems have a taste suggestive of artichokes. Young leaves, cut finely, make a refreshing salad. There are many ways to use Tampala; on the next page are four recipes we think you will like.

Tampala is not a new creation, but a newly recognized vegetable here. It has been enjoyed by the Chinese and the people of India for centuries.

Several years ago Rev. Earnest L. Lutz, a retired missionary, brought seed of this vegetable with him from Chungking, China, and gave some to David Burpee so that he might produce it in such quantities as to supply gardeners everywhere.

In China, the plant is known by several names, but these names are difficult to pronounce and not suitable for use in English or Spanish speaking countries. Therefore we have chosen the name "Tampala," by which it is known in India. Tampala is a horticultural variety of Amaranthus gangeticus L. We feel sure that you and your customers will like Tampala.

1375 Burpee's Tampala—⅓ oz. 50¢; ¼ oz. 90¢; oz. $3.25; ¼ lb. $9.75; lb. $29.00.

Burpee's TAMPALA

What these authorities think of it

A. R. JUNGINGER, Editor
Market Growers Journal, Louisville, Ky.

The box of Tampala which you shipped me arrived in excellent condition. The "greens" were distributed to some of the office staff and all reported they enjoyed them immensely. Some expressed the belief it tasted similar to mustard greens while others thought it tasted like an excellent spinach. My opinion is that it surpasses spinach both in flavor and quality.

F. R. KILNER, Editor
Florists Review, Chicago, Ill.

Once in a long while something new comes along which really rings the bell. Tampala was cooked and eaten by the family and can be recommended as something easy to grow, delicate in flavor throughout the summer and as productive in hot weather as in cool.

T. A. WESTON, Associate Editor
The Florists Exchange, New York

Tampala is the best new vegetable in many a year. A short row trial in my home garden has convinced us that spinach can be eliminated, except perhaps as an early crop.

Tampala is even better than spinach as it is never gritty; leaves need only five minutes cooking in a little water; it has not the strong, and, by many, disliked flavor of spinach; it cooks a rich, dark green and, above all, it can be drained or squeezed dry, thus being more attractive looking.

A ten-foot row of Tampala sown the latter end of May has given us many pickings and the plants still are going strong (Aug. 22, 1943). My wife and I think highly of it. Friends to whom we have given Tampala say it is superior to spinach at its best.

Tempting Ways to Use Burpee's Tampala

CHEESE TAMPALA SOUFFLE

1 tsp. chopped onion	½ cup milk	¾ cup grated cheese
2 tblsp. fat	¾ tsp. salt	3 eggs, separated
2 tblsp. flour	⅓ tsp. pepper	1 cup chopped, cooked Tampala

Sauté onion in fat until slightly yellow. Stir in flour and gradually add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese and seasonings. Place over hot water in double boiler; stir until cheese melts. Beat the egg yolks thoroughly and add with Tampala to cheese sauce, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn the souffle into a greased casserole and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven, 350° F., for about 50 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

TAMPALA RING

4 cups cooked Tampala	4 tblsp. butter or bacon drippings
¾ tsp. salt	3 cups cooked carrots and celery

Drain Tampala thoroughly. Chop fine and season with butter and salt. Press firmly into greased ring mold and place in slow oven, 250° F., for 20 minutes. Unmold ring onto chop plate. Fill center with buttered vegetables; garnish with bacon curls and mushrooms. Creamed chicken, meat or eggs may be used in place of the vegetables if desired.

Recipes developed and tested by Miss Alvina Iverson,
Director, The Country Gentleman Kitchen.

TAMPALA WITH HOT BACON DRESSING

6 strips bacon	1 tsp. salt	1 tblsp. lemon juice
½ cup sugar	½ cup water	4 tblsp. bacon fat
2 tblsp. flour	½ cup vinegar

Fry bacon until crisp, drain fat and measure ¼ cup. Mix dry ingredients, add to liquids and bacon fat. Cook in top of double boiler seven minutes until smooth. Add half of crisp bacon to dressing.

Put fresh cleaned, cut Tampala (about one pound) into large kettle and toss lightly with hot bacon dressing over fire four or five times. Serve at once, using rest of bacon as a garnish.

TAMPALA SALAD

Select tender leaves from Tampala stalk and wash thoroughly. Roll into firm bunch and cut with a sharp knife into very thin shreds. Also cut two medium sized onions into thin rings. Toss onions and Tampala together lightly with French dressing, also salt and pepper. Garnish with onion rings or sieved egg yolk.

Tampala leaves or shredded Tampala both make nice underliners for molded or tart salads. Tampala won great favor in our kitchen.

Associate Editor, Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife.

Mrs. August Belmont receiving from David Burpee a corsage of his new, deep orange Sweet Pea named for her in honor of her twenty-five years' work with The American Red Cross.

Burpee's Early Flowering Sweet Peas

Varieties are arranged in each color class from deep to light shades

Burpee's Early Flowering Sweet Peas come into bloom outdoors before the summer heat arrives—3 to 4 weeks earlier than the Giant Spencer varieties offered on pages 56 to 60. They are valuable for winter flowering under glass, also especially adapted for growing in frost-free sections and for earliest blooms outdoors in the North. Sweet Peas do best in cool weather. If seed was not sown in the fall, sow as early in the spring as the ground can be prepared. They prefer an open, sunny location, and deep, rich soil which must be well drained.

White

3390 Burpee's White Magnificent large, frilled, pure glistening white flowers which are particularly sweet-scented. A splendid white-seeded white.

3395 White Giant* Flowers are extremely large, of the purest white, and perfectly placed in fours on long, strong stems. An extra choice white-seeded white.

Cream

3334 Oriental Deep cream or primrose flowers of large size and unusual beauty. Black-seeded.

Fawn Pink

Spring Flowering Sweet Peas

Come into bloom outdoors between the Early and Giant Spencer classes. Plants are quite vigorous and what the flowers lack in size is made up by the heavy crop of blooms produced. Vines seem more heat resistant than other Sweet Peas. Under glass they are unusually free flowering and prolong the spring cutting season.

We offer three colors, each of which received an award in the All-America Selections:
